TAN OXFORDS

ARE NECESSARY THIS SEASON.

THE Tan Oxford is this season claiming its rightful place as the best summer shoe. Tan is the coolest leather that can be worn—the softest and easiest on the feet. Many exclusive styles here, including several of the season's fad—the sailor tie.

Brown Ooze Calf Sailor Tie, welted soles, Cuban heel, plain toe $3.50

Brown Kid Sailor Tie, welted soles, medium heel and toe - $3.00

Brown Kid Sailor Tie, turn sole, soft as a glove, rather narrow toe $3.00

Laird, Schober & Co.'s Tan Oxfords

A southern tie, made of tan kid, with cloth top and very light turn sole; is a great seller; extremely soft and pleasant to the feet. Then, a great variety of Russia calf welt oxfords for street wear.

The southern tie is $4

Queen Quality Tan Oxfords

Gibson Ties, brown oxfords and plain lace styles in Russia calf, with welted soles, sailor ties, Gibson ties and button oxfords, in tan vici with light flexible soles. Prices:

Laird, Schober & Co.'s are practically the only women's fine shoes in the country. They are unequalled in any respect—but especially in daintiness of style, flexibility and ease to the feet, and superb fitting qualities. Queen Quality Oxfords are pre-eminent among medium-price shoes—especially in the point of comfortable fit, and we carry a large enough variety in both lines to insure a pleasing selection and perfect fit.

DESERVED RECOGNITION OF FAITHFUL WORK.

Whole Faculty of White City Schools Unanimously Re-elected.

The Board of Education held a meeting on Monday night, which was attended by every member.

In recognition of earnest and faithful work by the corps of teachers during the last year, the whole faculty was unanimously re-elected.

Prof. McKee, who served as Superintendent of Schools for his first term, surprised his enemies and gratified his friends by demonstrating his ability and foresight in such a way as to make the workings of the schools a splendid success, running smoothly and without a jar throughout the year.

Most of the teachers have been in the schools for years and their painstaking fidelity to duty has brought up the reputation of the Frankfort Public Schools to that high position which places a graduate therefrom in the front rank of any college to which they may go in after time.

Those of them who are not so long in the service have proved equally as efficient and faithful.

Frankfort is proud of her schools and jealous of their reputation.

The Board of Education also resolved to proceed at once with the erection of the new High School Building on the Drane lot, which had been purchased for that purpose.

The following is a list of those elected for the next year:

Superintendent of Schools—Hugh C. McKee.

High School—George C. Downing, Principal; Miss Sallie Wallace Smith, Miss Margaret A. Lewis, Miss Lena M. Lynch.

Commercial Department—Miss Frances E. Hamilton, Principal.

Grades—Miss Louise A. Ward, Mrs. Jennie M. Chinn, Miss Anna M. Sullivan, Miss Annie B. Hubbard, Mrs. Lucy B. Sargent, Miss Prue H. Brawner, Miss Ella J. Stephens, Miss Loula M. Nelson, Miss Maude Whitehead, Miss S. Emma Payne, Miss Julia W. Johnson, Miss Mary Scott Chinn, Miss Marie C. McNamara, Miss Mary Lockett Smith, Miss Rebecca S. Johnson, Miss Mary L. McEwan, Miss Rachel S. Cronie, Miss S. Corinne Henry and Miss Bertha Talbott, supplies.

Kindergarten—Miss Margaret Page, Miss Nellie Marshall.

Director in Music—Prof. Wayland Graham.

Director and Instructor in Drawing—Miss Jessie M. Cox.

Engineer—Samuel Stone.

Janitor—John W. Hayden.

"Every man is entitled to a square deal."—President Roosevelt.

My Own Story

—BY—

Caleb Powers

This book is a calm, dispassionate account, from the standpoint of the man most interested, of the conditions in Kentucky leading to the assassination of William Goebel, and of Powers' indictment and conviction on the charge of complicity in his murder.

It covers his youth in the mountains of Kentucky, the conventions of 1899, the election, the shooting of Goebel, the arrest, the three trials and the prison life.

For dramatic situations, human interest and political importance, the case of Caleb Powers is unequaled.

..DEATHS..

CHURCH—In this county, on Tuesday, Mr. William Church, aged 44 years, of brain fever.

Mr. Church was an employee of the O. F. C. distillery. He leaves four children to mourn his death.

PHILLIPS—In this city, on Saturday night, Mr. George Phillips, aged 45 years, of appendicitis.

Mr. Phillips was a sturdy, upright and industrious man. We have known him from a boy, and admired him for his genial and manly character. He was especially gentle and tender with children. He was a valued employee of the Frankfort and Versailles Traction Co. He came near losing his life, a year or so ago, when attending to some repairs to a motor at the power house of the company—his skull being crushed—and his life hung in the balance for several weeks, but he finally recovered from the accident completely.

He leaves a wife and three children to mourn his untimely end.

He was a member of the Christian Church of this city, and the funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. M. Rush, of Winchester (in the absence of Rev. C. B. Hudson), on Monday afternoon, and the remains were laid away in our cemetery.

The Junior Order of American Mechanics, of which Mr. Phillips was a charter member, attended the funeral in a body, thus testifying to the high regard in which he was held.

The sincere sympathy of many friends goes out to the bereft family.

DEAN—In this city, on Monday, Mrs. Mary Dean, wife of Mr. John Dean, aged about 40 years, of heart failure.

Mrs. Dean was an industrious and devoted wife and mother, and was going about the duties of her home on Monday morning, when she suddenly complained of faintness and lay down to recuperate. A few minutes later it was found that she had passed away without a struggle or a groan.

She leaves a husband and a little boy, beside many other relatives and friends, to mourn her death.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Dr. J. Mc C. Blaney, on Tuesday, and the remains were laid away in our cemetery.

MARRIED.

STATEN-PAUL—At the Methodist Parsonage, on Tuesday night, Mr. Jas. S. Staten, of Indianapolis, Ind., and Miss Mayde Paul, of Shelbyville, were married by Rev. J. O. A. Vaught.

Mr. Staten is the son of Mr. Joe T. Staten, formerly of this city, and is a hustling young business man. His bride is a popular and pretty Shelby county girl.

JULIAN-HERNDON—At the residence of the bride's aunt, Miss Annie Herndon, in this county, on Tuesday afternoon, Mr. Clarence Julian and Miss Fannie Marshall Herndon, of Louisville, were married by Rev. A. B. Chinn, Rector of Ascension Church.

Mr. Julian is one of our jolliest and most substantial farmers. He has as many friends as any man in the county.

His bride is the pretty and accomplished daughter of Mr. John C. Herndon, of the Bradley-Gilbert Co., Louisville. She is well known here, where she visits every summer.

Hearty congratulations are extended. The "Batch Club" is thus dissolved forever.

MAGILL-ROGERS—In Elizabeth, N. J., on Wednesday, Mr. John W. Magill and Miss Ethel M. Rogers were married.

Mr. Magill is a Frankfort boy, who holds a fine position with the Hercules Powder Co., at Wilmington, Del. He is a fine young man. His bride is said to be a fascinating and accomplished lady.

CROUCH-WILSON—At the County Judge's Office, on Wednesday, Mr. John B. Crouch, of Mackville, and Mrs. Sarah Wilson, of Somerset, were married by Judge Jas. H. Polsgrove.

CLIMATIC CURES.

The influence of climatic conditions in the cure of consumption is very much overdrawn. The poor patient and the rich patient too, can do much better at home by proper attention to food digestion, and a regular use of German Syrup. Free expectoration in the morning is made certain by German Syrup, so is a good night's rest and the absence of that weakening cough and debilitating night sweat. Restless nights and the exhaustion due to coughing, the greatest danger and dread of the consumptive, can be prevented or stopped by taking German Syrup liberally and regularly. When you are able to go to a warmer climate, you will find that of the thousands of consumptives there, the few who are benefited and regain strength are those that use German Syrup. Trial bottle, 25c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists. 1 yr.

TORTURE OF A PREACHER.

The story of the torture of Rev. G. D. Moore, pastor of the Baptist Church, of Harpersville, N. Y., will interest you. He says: "I suffered agonies, because of a persistent cough, resulting from the grip. I had to sleep sitting up. I tried many remedies, without relief, until I took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consuming Coughs and Colds, which entirely cured my cough, and saved me from consumption. A grand cure for diseased condition of Throat and Lungs. At all druggists; price 50c and $1.00, guaranteed. Trial bottle free."

STRANGE ADVICE!

Dr. C. G. Green gives alert personal attention to his great humanitary contract.

In our Almanac for many years past we have given unusual advice to those afflicted with coughs, colds, throat or lung troubles or consumption. We have told them if they did not receive any special benefit after the use of one 75-cent size bottle of German Syrup, to consult their doctor. We did not ask them or urge them to use a large number of bottles, as is the case in the advertising of many other remedies. Our confidence in German Syrup makes it possible for us to give such advice. We know by the experience of over 35 years that one 75-cent bottle of German Syrup will speedily relieve or cure the worst cough, cold, bronchial or lung troubles—and that, even in bad cases of consumption, one large bottle of German Syrup will work wonders. New trial bottles, 25c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists.

"DO IT TO-DAY."

The time—worn infirmity, "Never put off 'till to-morrow what you can do to-day," is now generally practiced in this form: "Do it to-day!" That is the voice of advice we want to give you about that hacking cough or demoralizing cold with which you have been struggling for several days, perhaps weeks. Take some reliable remedy for it to-day—and let that remedy be Dr. J. C. Rose's German Syrup, which has been in use for over thirty-five years. A few doses of it will undoubtedly relieve you, even if you have been coughing or cold, and its continued use for a few days will cure you completely. No matter how deep-seated your cough, even if dread consumption has attacked your lungs, German Syrup will surely effect a cure—as it has done before in thousands of apparently hopeless cases of lung trouble. New trial bottles, 25c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists. 1 yr.

THE EVOLUTION OF A RAFTSMAN.

Rev. J. A. Burns, the eloquent preacher principal of Oneida Academy, preached at the First Baptist Church on Sunday and Sunday night.

The subject Sunday night, was "The Evolution of a Raftsmen." It was full of vivid description and thrilling passages. According to his exposition of his subject Clay County is so drained by the streams which make the beautiful South Fork of the Kentucky River that the natural ideal for the Clay county boy is to learn the river and be able to navigate it on the great rafts which are brought down to the lower markets. Every portion of this fertile section is watered by the South Fork and by Red Bird, Bullskin and Goose Creek, which unite at Oneida to form that stream. The mountain boy of that section has, as the highest ideal of his life, to be able to navigate the dangerous narrows below Oneida with a raft in the night time.

Prof. Burns himself is a skilled raftsman, and in his earlier days, though he is now only 32 years old, made many trips from the upper waters of the tributaries of the South Fork to Frankfort with large rafts of logs. He knows every foot of the Kentucky River and with the skill of the master pilot can avoid its danger points. His description of the raft with its human freightage bounding out upon the tide and by giant strength an super skill being guided of the rocks and bars was a most thrilling one. It was pathetic to hear his story of the mountain boy's first experience in Frankfort when, his logs sold, he came in to spend his money for the liquor which crazed his brain and for the pistol which made him in time an accomplished feudist. He described the humble mountain cabin in which these thrilling stories were told in the hearing of the boys and how their ambitions were fired for eminence in the same sort of life.

Turning from this aspect of his subject he told of the great work being done by the Oneida Baptist Institute. In a passage of wonderful eloquence he pictured the stream of the future which came to him one day in the early dawn, when, with no eye to pity and no arm to help save that of his God, he laid, all alone, the corner-stone of the first of the buildings now on the ample and noble campus. Instead of a raftsmen, consigned to a life of grinding poverty and appalling hunger, he dreamed of prosperous farmers, tilling the soil and raising all kinds of fruits and grains. He dreamed of a higher manhood for his people, a spiritual manhood which would not only furnish Kentucky with one of its noblest types of citizenship, but which would furnish the world of missions with a hardy Christian manhood which would stand back at no danger and brave deserts, seas and savages to take the religion of Christ to the most distant part of the world. Prof. Burns is through and through a missionary. The narrowness and ignorance of indifference and opposition to the mission enterprise stands rebuked by the very subtle influence which goes out from his consecrated personality.

A large audience was present to hear him notwithstanding the extreme heat.

Shattered Nerves and Weak Heart.

Too Nervous to Sleep or Rest.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nerve Cure Me.

A shattered nervous system nearly always leads to some affection of the heart, especially where the patient's heart is weak from hereditary or other causes. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is not only a great heart regulator, but it is a blood tonic which speedily corrects and regulates the heart's action, enriches the blood and improves the circulation. It will build you up just as it did Mr. Crawford whose letter follows, and greatly improve your general health.

"I have been so greatly benefited by Dr. Miles' Nerve and Heart Cure that I freely recommend them as the best remedies for the diseases they are recommended to cure. When I began taking these medicines I weighed scarcely 120 pounds, my nerves were badly shattered and my heart troubled me a great deal. I had pain in my left arm and shoulder, had difficulty in sleeping, my left side, had frequent smothering spells and my heart would flutter and palpitate. I could eat scarcely any kind of food without suffering great distress, and was so restless and nervous that I slept little night or day. Now I am never bothered with my heart, my nerves are steady as a die, I sleep well, eat well and weigh 165 pounds. I am happy now and am trying to make back the money I spent for doctors who did me no good while I was ill."—R. K. CRAWFORD, Center, Texas.

THE STEWART HOME.

We are in receipt of an elegantly gotten up and beautifully illustrated prospectus of the Stewart Home, located at Farmdale, this county (formerly known as the Kentucky Military Institute).

The Home is just the thing for nervous and backward children, who do not keep up with the other children in our schools. At the same time that they are taught, their mental and nervous conditions are watched over and treated by Dr. John P. Stewart, the efficient and able Superintendent and Proprietor. Dr. Stewart is a worthy successor to his lamented and beloved father, and, by life-long experience, is peculiarly qualified for the work to which he has given his life.

The situation of the Home is ideal, being on the high table land lying above the Kentucky river, and is thoroughly sanitary in all its appointments. Shady groves and grassy lawns afford fresh air and exercise for the pupils, and their every want is anticipated with unflinching zeal by the employees.

The terms of admission are very reasonable. Inquirers should address Dr. John P. Stewart, Farmdale, Ky., for any information desired.

THE Y. M. C. A. SWIMMING CLUB.

The Swimming Club of the local Y. M. C. A. has been reorganized for the season, and everything put in shape for a good time during the hot months. It only costs $2 to become a member of the Club and to enjoy the privileges of the Club House. Towels will be furnished at 2 cents each. Lockers and keys can be secured by calling on the General Secretary and paying 25 cents.

There is no healthier sport than swimming and the young men in the club are a fine set of fellows.

WHAT IS WRONG WITH COLLEGE SPORT?

Concluding "The College Athlete," in the July McClure's, Henry Beach Needham makes further revelation of the trickery and dishonesty which commercialism fosters in undergraduate sport. Baseball players come in for the same attention the football stars received in the first paper and, because it is easier for a ball player to turn his skill into a surreptitious source of income, the conditions are worse with the ball men than with the eleven.

It is a startling story Mr. Needham has to tell of those clever men practicing in their college days all the wiles of the bribe-giver and the bribe-taker:

"Few players could be convicted in a court of law," he says, "on the charge of receiving money, or its equivalent, for playing ball. It is easier to convict a legislator of bribe-taking—yes, the attorney for the big corporation of bribe-giving—than to convict a college gentleman of evading the rules he is pledged to live up to, and of taking money."

This is a strong statement, but that it is within the facts Mr. Needham's narrative proves beyond any doubt, for his story is one of specific instances and he never fails to name the men, the time, and the place.

For all the evils he shows up the writer is far from pessimistic. "It is true beyond question," he says, "the conditions have been far worse than they are to-day." He puts the blame upon the spirit that makes a business of winning, of winning at any cost.

"If the professionals, other than the scientific trainers who watch over the physical condition of the athletes, were let go, if the amateur coaches—the college graduates—were sent about their serious business for which their collegiate education supposedly fits them, and if the development of the university crews, eleven and nine were left to the undergraduates, primarily to the various team captains, a large part of the evils in college athletics would disappear. * * * The hope of college amateurism is in the awakening of a spirit of true sport—fair play, and sport for sport's sake."

IN MEMORIAM

Of my aunt, Mrs. Mary J. Allen, who died at her home May 4, 1905, age 64 years, 1 month, 9 days.

She has been a devoted member of the Christian Church at Antioch for years. She has been a constant sufferer many months. She was faithful to the last. She was the joy of her children and supremely loved by her husband. But God knows best, he has prepared a place for her in that bright world above, and has called her home. Now she has crossed over the river to the bright celestial sphere where she awaits the coming of the dear bereaved ones left behind.

Her funeral was conducted by Rev. J. K. P. South, after which she was laid to rest in the graveyard.

Oh sadly do we miss you, No earthly tongue can tell, But in heaven we hope to meet you For God doeth all things well. For beyond this world of care Soon we will find our loved ones waiting.

In our Father's mansion fair; Yes she has gone, but not forgotten By the ones left lonely here, And 'ere long we hope to meet her In that bright and glorious dawn. M. S.

IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS.

Don't Mistake the Cause of Your Troubles—A Frankfort Citizen Shows How to Cure Them.

Many people never suspect their kidneys.

If suffering from a lame, weak or aching back they think that it is only a muscular weakness; when urinary trouble sets in they think it will soon correct itself. And so it is with all the other symptoms of kidney disorders. That is just where the danger lies. You must cure these troubles or they lead to diabetes or Bright's disease. The best remedy to use is Doan's Pills. It cures all ills which are caused by weak or diseased kidneys. Frankfort people testify to permanent cures.

Mrs. C. V. Webber, of 426 High Street, wife of C. V. Webber, blacksmith, says: "The dragging down pains in the small of my back were terrible. At night I suffered most. I fairly dreaded often to go to bed, for the aching after I lay down was more than an ordinary mortal should be called upon to endure. I could hardly lie on my back at all, and if I attempted to turn to either side sharp twinges caught me in the small of my back, and as a result I have laid awake for hours suffering torture, arising in the morning more tired than when I went to bed. A weakness of the kidneys, the secretions being irregular and distressing, had bothered me ever since I was a child. Not until I learned about Doan's Kidney Pills and procured a box at J. W. Gayle's drug store was I able to find anything that would give me relief. The use of this remedy gradually lessened the aching until it stopped, and good, sound, refreshing sleep followed. The difficulty with the kidney secretions was also greatly relieved. As a result my health was considerably better than it had been for months before I commenced the use of Doan's Kidney Pills."

CONCENTRATION OF DEVELOPMENT FORCES IN WEST VIRGINIA, KENTUCKY AND VIRGINIA.

In the great central coal and timber region embracing West Virginia and part of Kentucky and Southwest Virginia are entering the most gigantic development forces of America. In that section there is an eager scramble by the leading financiers and the great industrial corporations to secure control of large properties and to still further develop properties already owned. Railroad construction, coal-mining, lumbering operations and vast industrial movements generally are under way.

In order to present to the world a comprehensive story of the resources of that territory and of the forces which are now combining to make that region one of the greatest industrial centers of the world, the Manufacturers' Record of Baltimore will for the next few months have its special correspondent, Mr. Albert Phenix, make a careful and comprehensive study of its natural advantages, its wealth of coal and timber and its railroad development, and in a series of broad and comprehensive letters, which will be given the widest possible circulation, Mr. Phenix will tell the story of the coal and iron and timber and railroad development of West Virginia, Virginia and Kentucky.

In order to further this work and to secure all possible data which may add to its value, the Manufacturers' Record invites suggestions regarding matters of special interest covering the resources and progress of this section and the prospects of large developments in the future.

BUY YOUR OWN PAPER.

A man who was too economical to subscribe for his home paper sent his little boy to borrow the copy taken by his neighbor. In his haste the boy ran over a stand of bees and in ten minutes looked like a warty summer squash. His cries reached his father, who ran to his assistance, and, failing to notice a barbed-wire fence, ran into it, breaking it down, cutting a handful of flesh from his anatomy and ruining a $5 pair of pants. The old cow took advantage of the gap in the fence and got into the cornfield and killed herself eating green corn. Hearing the racket, the wife ran, upset a four-gallon churn of rich cream into a basket of kittens, drowning the whole flock. In her hurry she dropped her $25 set of false teeth. The baby, left alone, crawled through the spilled cream into the parlor, ruining a $20 carpet. During the excitement the oldest daughter ran away with the hired man, the dog broke up eleven setting hens, and the calves got out and chewed the tails off four fine shirts.

FROM OUR SAILOR BOY.

U. S. R. S. Franklin,
Norfolk, Va.

Mr. Geo. A. Lewis,
Frankfort, Ky.:

Dear Sir—I thought I would drop you a few lines to let you all know we are all well and still a "looping." I would have written sooner, but to tell the truth for once in my life, I am getting too lazy to go to sleep, and you know when a fellow gets that lazy he is "going some." "Don't you think so?" Was very sorry to read in "The Call" that Mr. Geo. Phillips was dead, as he only kicked me off his car about one dozen times.

I also saw where Mr. J. B. was in Cincinnati to buy fireworks for the Fourth, and he knows what to buy to please the people, so you all can look out for a good time. The Iowa is going out this evening, and I hate to see her go for she is so pretty I like to lay in the shade on the grass and look at her. I have wished about 10,000 times I was going to leave here on her. She is only going to make a small cruise around the world. There is a torpedo station and I went over there yesterday and took a "shot" at one of them and they have some work about them. They are about five feet long and have an engine in them and a small propeller and a rudder, and I don't know what else. When they are started the engine starts too. The end is filled with powder and has a nose or cap on the end, and when the cap strikes the "fire is out." They only cost $2.00 each, but when one is shot something is going down, they can't miss.

I saw in "The Call" the other day where Thomas Marcum was cut by a negro, and I felt so sorry for "Brutus," but I read the rest of the piece and saw it was not our "Brutus." I was glad it was not our Tom, for he is a good boy and I like him.

Tell Mr. Joe not to get hurt by fireworks on the Fourth. Always lay the cracker on the ground and light it and run. The thermometer here is 87 to-day. It seems like I get in bad on Friday all the time. We have a little drill here and had to get out the Roundabout at home, but I like to drill when I am not sleepy. My pencil needs to be sharpened and I am too lazy to get a knife, so good-by.

I reckon I had better bring this thing to a close for this time, as I must take my little nap before supper.

Schultz, the beer, that made Milwaukee famous. Good-by.

Yours truly,
CHAS. J. SHEETINGER.

"GHOSTS"—A STORY FOR MEN ONLY.

No. II. Chapter Second.

"What is the holiest? That which to-day, and ever on, Deeper and deeper felt, souls More and more together binds." Jack quipped, standing before me with smiling lips and a light of resolve within his deep blue eyes. "Tom, old friend, Gosh! was not far from the truth when he learned this lesson, and your being here seems to verify it—

"Supper is ready, come!" The room in which the table was laid, for two, was a long, narrow shed, which appeared to have been added, to the log house, after the main room was built. A door at the furthest end, and being closed, I suspected it shut out from my view the bed room of the wife and child who were nowhere to be seen.

A tall, shambling youth of perhaps 14 years was standing by the open fire place with a plate of bread in his hand, whom Jack presented to me as Joe, more correctly known as "Hyndam" later on. I took my seat on a narrow bench before a low, square, wooden table, spotlessly clean, but devoid of cloth or napery. The plates were of tin shining as silver. My knife and fork of steel with black handles. A tin spoon was in the tin cup, and we had our coffee poured out by Joe, without sugar or cream. It was hot. I enjoyed it as I had never before enjoyed coffee.

I remember a little spray of wild, white violets was on the table, and the cracked, old cup containing them was like unto the vase of Gahada in the Palace of Perie. The fare of cornbread, bacon, and eggs, tasted sweeter than ambrosia. After we had eaten Jack led the way to a nearby spring where we sat and talked until the "wee small hours."

He told me many of his life's history which shall be written in the years to come, and piloted me back to my little room just as the faint rays of the moon came up over the tree tops.

It might have been early, it may have been late, as on looking at my watch I found it had stopped running.

The silence was oppressive! I could almost hear the loud throbbing of my own heart. As I prepared for rest, tucking both watch and purse, with my trousers, under the cot's pillow, and whispering a prayer for safety as I lifted my eyes to the small window where the moonlight came softly in, gliding with trailing garments of silvery sheen the shadows of the night.

Often, on the prairies of Texas, I had lain with open eyes, listening to the distant yelping of coyotes, while the rhythmic beat of a supreme stillness measured the pulse beats. There was a nearness to Mother Nature as I lay on her warm bosom with the sky only for a covering; but here—in the confines of four square walls—there was an impression of something near me which was not of earth. It made me tremble, though not from fear, for I had met face to face, in these mountains, a scientific fact that I had sought to discover all my life, the transposition of thought, the open sesame of memory, and I accepted it in the spirit of a frightened child. Jack's story, his wife, his child, impressed me with peculiar insistence, and as I wrestled with the problem and its significance Jack entered, followed by his wife, who was pleading with him in an unknown language. Both appeared to be asleep, or under some strange influence, that she was vainly striving to overcome, and taking the hand of her husband both passed out through another door unobserved until now.

Springing up I followed them, dressing myself as I ran. One out of doors they walked very fast, and I hurried on oblivious of any direction or condition, except the one thought of keeping them in sight, until the mountain fastness shut us in, and I heard the low impassioned notes of music, so sweet, so soft, so entrancing, that my very soul cried out in ecstasy:

"We have but faith; we can not know; For knowledge is of things we see." My ecstasy followed Tennyson.

"Behold! we know not anything. I can but trust that good shall Fall at last—far off—at last—To all."

And ever winter change to spring. So runs my dream: But what am I? An infant crying in the night, An infant crying for the light, And with no language but a cry."

And my strength was further tested by a stern command at my very side:

"Are you a friend, or a spy?" (Continued in the next.)

No need to fear sudden attacks of cholera infantum, dysentery, diarrhoea, or summer complaint, if you have Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry in the medicine chest.

A LEAF FROM KENTUCKY HISTORY.

(Written for The Kentucky Farmer and Breeder by John Goff, Esq., Goff Home Farm, Indian Field, Ky.)

The first woman to own a piece of land in Kentucky was Susannah Boone, daughter of Daniel Boone, who very early obtained a patent for a tract in Madison county.

The first marriage in Kentucky was that of Samuel Henderson to Elizabeth Callaway, August 7, 1776. Their daughter, Fannie, born in 1777, was the first white child in the State born of parents married in the State.

The first plow stock manufactured in Kentucky was made by William Poague, at Harrodsburg, in 1770. He also made the first loom, while his wife brought the first spinning wheel to the State and wove from the lint of nettles the first piece of linen manufactured, and from buffalo wool the first piece of liney.

The first grist mill in the State run by water power was, perhaps, one built by Capt. John McMurry, near Shakertown, in Mercer county, in 1782.

The first horses were brought to the State in 1750 by Dr. Walker; the first cattle and hogs by Boone and his companions in 1775.

The first lawyer in Kentucky was John Williams, manager of the Transylvania Company.

The first Englishmen who visited Kentucky were those under the leadership of Col. Wood, who, in 1654, explored the northern boundary of the State.

The first Frenchmen to view any portion of the State were a small band of fur traders, who, in 1673, traveled in canoes down the Mississippi as far as the mouth of the Arkansas.

The first white native American to visit Kentucky was John Salting, of Virginia, who, in 1730, was carried as a prisoner by the Indians through the State.

The first white woman that ever saw Kentucky was Mrs. Mary Ingo, who, in 1750 was carried as a prisoner by the Indians to Big Bone Lick, in Boone county.

The first Dutchman to visit Kentucky was a small company which established the White Oak Settlement in Madison county.

The first sermon preached in Kentucky was delivered by Rev. John Lytle, of the Church of England, in 1775.

The first ferry was established at Boonesboro in 1775.

The first county seat in Kentucky was that of Lincoln county, established at Harrodsburg.

The first law for the establishment of public schools was passed in 1838.

A GREAT IMPROVEMENT.

Chief of Fire Department E. H. Talyor has made a big improvement in his department. A splendid stone wall has taken the place of the old tumbled-down affair of the past, at the rear of the lot, a stout and close board fence, some eight feet high, has been placed on top of that, and the whole whitewashed until it shines. A much needed shed has been erected in which to put the extra hose wagon and the dust cart. The lot between the main building and the shed will be graded so that the water will run back into a sewer in place of under the floor of the building.

When this work is completed the fire boys can pride themselves on having as neat and cozy a fire house as anywhere to be found.

A large part of this work has been done by Chief Taylor and his men in their spare time, thus saving a considerable sum to the city.
